Program Presentation

Study French and Arabic at one of Europe's top institutions in an ideal and safe setting

Come and discover or reinforce your proficiency in French or in Arabic for three weeks. Taught by specialists in these two languages, you will divide your time between intensive courses, conversation workshops and cultural and touristic visits of the French Riviera.

Whether you are beginner or advanced in French or in Arabic, the language summer school of Sciences Po offers you an intensive program of 48 hours of classes during three weeks. For each of these two languages, three levels are offered:

- Beginner level: it will introduce beginners to the basic structures of the language and the formulation of short self-presentation phrases and sentences regarding everyday life
- Intermediate level : this is addressed to students who have already practiced Arabic or French and who wish to reinforce specific linguistic aspects that will permit them to progress quickly
- Advanced level : it allows students who already master Arabic or French to refine their knowledge of the language, work on its details, and acquire sophisticated vocabulary

Summer in Menton

The last French town before the Italian border, Menton is an international beach resort known for its mild climate, the Lemon Festival, and its exotic gardens

Participants at this Summer School will create new and lasting friendships. Water sports, cultural and culinary discovery of the Mediterranean, as well as evening events organized in the campus garden ideally complement the academic program and build unforgettable memories. Furthermore, trips to Monaco, Cannes and Menton's countryside will allow the participants to discover the French Riviera, one of the most beautiful regions in the world, its history and heritage.

The city, which also hosts the largest Cocteau museum in the world, is small in size and pleasant, particularly favorable for developing personal ties. Hospitable to students from all over the world, accustomed to cultural exchanges due to its location along the border, Menton offers its visitors a unique experience.

Ten minutes by train, you are in the Principality of Monaco, a global city at the doorsteps of Menton, so are Nice with its famous "Promenade des Anglais" and Cannes, world cinema attraction, but also Ventimiglia and San Remo, where the Italian way of life, the dolce vita, reigns.

The Campus

Historic monument in the heart of medieval Menton with state-of-the-art facilities

A selective university of social sciences, Sciences Po is today one of Europe's top institutions, with 10 000 students on seven international campuses. The campus of Menton is located in an Italian-inspired historic building, on a site of 3000 square meters, in the heart of the old town of Menton.

It enjoys an unobstructed view of the Mediterranean, about 50 meters from the beach and the town's shopping streets. Inter-connected classrooms, two amphitheatres, a library with 10 000 French, English, Italian, and Arabic books, but also a student life center and a Mediterranean garden are at the disposal of participants to work in ideal conditions.
